

Pale Cocoon

Director: Yasuhiro YOSHIURA

23min.

Human beings found themselves living in this world before they knew it.

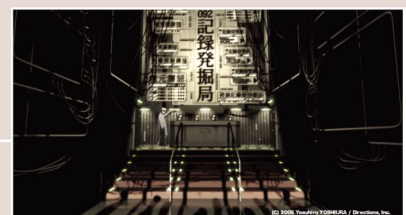

With the future of our historical continuity coming close to an end...
A world with endless massive ruins...

The ocean and the land vanished; it now existed only in the "memory" excavated from the ruins. URA belonged to the "Memory Excavation Department" which analyzed the past by excavating and restoring the memory.

One day, he restores an eccentric memory image...
